

Petroleum Regulator To Announce Changes

Halifax, NS – Nova Scotia's oil and gas industry has seen a downturn in exploration in recent years. But as energy prices climb and explorers consider new frontiers for discoveries, Nova Scotia will move into an increasingly favorable position.

The chair of the Canada-Nova Scotia Offshore Petroleum Board (CNSOPB), Diana Dalton, will announce new terms and conditions affecting exploration of the offshore of Nova Scotia in a speech hosted by the Offshore/Onshore Technologies Association of Nova Scotia.

CNSOPB is responsible for regulating petroleum activities for Nova Scotia's offshore.

Date: Thursday, April 19th, 2007

Time 7:30 AM – 9:30 AM

Venue: Westin Nova Scotia Hotel, Atlantic Ballroom
1181 Hollis Street
Halifax, Nova Scotia

Webcast: Audio webcast starting at 08:35 AST

Members of the media are invited to attend. For further information or to book an interview with Diana Dalton:

Contact:

*Debbie Mountenay
Manager, Administration and Industrial Benefits
Canada-Nova Scotia Offshore Petroleum Board
Office: (902) 496-0743
Email: dmountenay@cnsopb.ns.ca*